Member Tips and Recommendations

Sent in by Judi Roach: I know weâ€™re all consistently looking for ways to improve the health and lives of our horses. This is exactly what I was trying to do five years ago when I found an all natural fly spray to be used in whole barn systems. At the time I had been using the pyrethrum chemicals recommended by the company that services my fly spray system. Unfortunately I had a horse that consistently reacted to this chemical so I started searching for an alternative and found Natures Balance Care. The owner, Missy Paxton, worked with me to develop an all natural alternative. Not only does it work great in repelling flying insects, it smells great, and is considerably less expensive than buying chemicals. And I have only had to replace one nozzle in five years. Natures Balance Care has lots of great products for our horses that I love and I wanted to share this information with our members. Should you want additional information about the barn spray or any of their great products just check out their web site www.naturesbalancecare.com

Silver Creek Farms newest is the lovely Sempatico colt, Sudoku.

For Sale: a nice 17.5" custom made all leather saddle with a deep seat, medium wide. I bought the saddle from a friend that had it made when she lived in England. It is in great condition. This saddle was what I used on my Trakehner/TB mare and it fit well on my Hanoverian/TB cross but it doesn't fit any of my other horses. I'm asking $500.
